Level 1 – Beginner

Real communication is only possible for the most basic information exchange using isolated words or short formulae in familiar situations and to meet immediate needs. The student can understand very simple spoken and written English.

Level 2 – Elementary

The student is able to convey and understand general meaning only in very familiar situations, enabling satisfaction of immediate, predictable needs, using predominantly formulaic language.

Level 3 – Pre-Intermediate

The student is able to satisfy everyday transactional needs and social needs. Adequate performance is limited to familiar situations. The student is able to understand and use simple language.

Level 4 – Intermediate

The student is able to perform effectively in most informal and formal situations pertinent to social and community life and everyday commerce and recreation, and in situations which are not linguistically demanding in own 'vocational' fields.

Level 5 – Upper Intermediate

The student has generally effective control of the language despite some inaccuracies and misunderstandings. The student can use and understand quite complex language, especially in familiar situations.

Level 6 - Advanced

The student has control of the language, though with very occasional inaccuracies and misunderstandings in some situations. The student is generally able to handle complex language well and understands detailed reasoning.

Level 7 – Post Advanced

The student has fully operational command of the language with only occasional unsystematic inaccuracies. Misunderstandings should only occur in very unfamiliar situations. Handles complex detailed communication well.

Participation grade system

	Very Good	Good	Satisfactory	Poor
Participation	A	B	C	D
